

PRESS RELEASE

More favourable saving in Banca Intesa

- Increased interest rates for termed savings in EUR even up to 30%

Belgrade (18 September 2007) – With objective to stimulate citizens to save, Banca Intesa increased its interest rates for all termed EUR deposits even up to 30%. With these stimulating measures, interests were increased for all categories of FX savings in terms of terming periods as well as in terms of the deposit amounts. Possibility to save under these conditions is provided for both domestic and foreign natural entities.

The amount of interest rate for termed FX savings range from 3% for deposits termed for one month period, whereas for deposits over EUR 50,000 termed for 36 months, interest rate reaches 6.30%. Particularly favourable saving conditions relate to average amount and terming period deposits, which in our conditions is a deposit of up to EUR 5,000 termed for a shorter time period of 3, 6, 12 months and up to two years, with interest rates moving up to 5.4%.

In savings volume, Banca Intesa is among the leading banks on the domestic market, with total deposits in the amount of EUR 600 million and market share of 13%. From the beginning of the year till the end of August, total deposits were increased by 29.4% in relation to the end of the previous year.