Belgrade, August 27, 2021 – The sixth Italian football camp for children, supported by Banca Intesa, a member of the Intesa Sanpaolo Group, and DDOR Insurance, a member of the Unipol Group, was successfully completed today with the graduation ceremony. The Italian football camp was held on the football fields of the FC Voždovac stadium, from Monday, August 23 to Friday, August 27, after a one-year break due to the coronavirus pandemic. The sports event, which is intended for children from 7 to 14 years of age, included technical, physical and tactical trainings and provided its participants with a unique opportunity to master the skills and secrets of this sport by working with the best Italian coaches.

As in previous years, the three most talented participants of the camp get the opportunity to attend the Day of the Italian football camp and visit Italy together with children from other countries. The three-day event for young football players will be held on the grounds of the Coverciano Academy, where they will be able to enjoy not only trainings, matches, special courses, a tour of the Italian Football Museum and a Serie A match, but also many other interesting contents, with practical tips and numerous skills that make real football stars.

The Italian football camp is a project of the Club Italia Master association, which brings together former players of the Italian national team, and is organized by the Italian company World Camp Srl. This year's promoter of the camp was the legendary Italian football player Alessandro Del Piero, who recently visited Belgrade on that occasion.
