

Intesa Sanpaolo Card Validates Compliance with the PCI DSS

Intesa Sanpaolo Card Ltd. (ISP Card), a card processing company, has been validated compliant with the Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard (PCI DSS). Trustwave, the leading provider of PCI DSS compliance management solutions, performed the validation.

PCI DSS is the payment card industry security requirement for entities that store, process or transmit cardholder data, and has been endorsed by all the major card brands – Visa Inc., MasterCard Worldwide, Discover Network, American Express and JCB.

As a member of a financial group, ISP Card had to demonstrate compliance by thoroughly validating its adherence to a comprehensive range of security policies and procedures. To maintain their compliance, ISP Card has enrolled in Trustwave's on-demand compliance management solution, TrustKeeper® to access the necessary tools to support on-going compliance such as quarterly network vulnerability scans. Additionally, ISP Card passed multiple network penetration tests to ensure proper security controls were in place to protect its organization from attacks by data thieves hoping to obtain confidential data.

"Validating compliance with the PCI DSS is an important additional step to demonstrate the security of our operations," said Zdenek Houser, CEO at Intesa Sanpaolo Card. "Implementing Trustwave's leading security solutions helped us validate and maintain our compliance to further secure our customers."

"ISP Card understands that security goes hand-in-hand with normal business activities, integrating security requirements and controls into the early stages of product and process development," said Andy Bokor, executive director, EMEA and APAC, at Trustwave. "In their rapidly changing environment, ISP Card has committed themselves to information security as a pillar for successful business."
